The young man whom you mentioned to me has been over to talk with my Executive Assistant and has been formally interviewed for possible employment.

I am advised that he makes a fine personal impression. However, in view of his age and the fact that he has not yet completed his military service, it is very doubtful that we will be able to use him.

He has a mediocre college record and he responded positively to informal advice that he would do well at this time to settle down and devote full time to the studies.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

C. P. Cabell
